National Postal Policy

534. DR. B.B. DUTTA: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether the formulation of a National Postal Policy undertaken in 1992 has since been completed;

(b) if so, the details thereof; and

(c) if not, the reasons for the delay?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS (SHRI KABINDRA PURKAYASTHA): (a) to (c) In 1992, action was initiated to draft a National Postal Policy but the matter did not progress further thereafter. During 1997, a draft National Postal Policy was prepared and submitted for consideration of the Consultative Committee of Parliament for the Ministry of Communications in its meeting held on 20.8.97. However, discussions remained inconclusive as in the meanwhile the Lok Sabha was dissolved. Keeping in view the rapid socio-economic development and all pervasive technological advances in the communication sector and increasing pressure for faster and more efficient service and to offer value added services especially tailor made for identified customer segments, the draft National Postal Policy has been further modified and is at present under active consideration.

Harassment of Small Investors in Post Offices

535. SHRI JANARDHANA POOJARY: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government's attention has been drawn to an article that appeared in India Today on page 71 dated 9th November, 1998 under the caption "Safe deposits, despite red tape, saving in post office schemes is the best bet for small investors";

(b) what is the amount in such deposits as on 30th November, 1998;

(c) whether Government are aware that investors many of them poor and illiterate persons in villages and small towns face harassment due to clumsy and out-dated procedures for withdrawing money; and

(d) if so, whether Government propose to streamline procedures so that depositors are saved from harassment at Post offices?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS (SHRI KABINDRA PURKAYASTHA): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) The amount of total money in all such deposits (small savings schemes and savings certificates put together) as on 30th September, 1998 is Rs. 13,81,62.17 crores only.
